Dear Friends,

It gives me great pleasure to recognize and honor the Institute for Korean-American Studies (ICAS) and to welcome all of the ICAS Summer Symposium attendees.

The ICAS has been a private educational and research organization since its establishment in 1973. Its mission is to promote relationships and conduct activities that enhance cooperation, and to pursue peace and prosperity with people of mutual interests, especially multilateral relationships between the United States and Asia-Pacific rim nations. I applaud the great work the ICAS has done to promote Korean-American issues nationally and internationally.

Korean-Americans are a pivotal part of the history of the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. For over 100 years, Korean-Americans have contributed to the rich ethnic and cultural diversity throughout our communities and cities. Korean immigrants and their descendants have also made and continue to make invaluable contributions to the social and economic vitality of Pennsylvania.

Once again, it is my pleasure to recognize the ICAS and all ICAS Summer Symposium attendees.

Sincerely,

Pat Toomey
U.S. Senator
